

2-009 Income

2-009.01 Standard of Need: ~~represents the regular recurring monthly amount. The standard of need is a consolidation of items necessary for basic subsistence and is used to calculate a unit's ADC benefit amount. Included in this~~ The standard of need represents the monthly aggregate cost of ~~are~~ food, clothing, sundries, home supplies, utilities, laundry, and shelter, including. ~~(Shelter includes rent, mortgage payment, taxes, and insurance.) Also included in this standard amount are meals prepared away from home, therapeutic diet, meals furnished to a household employee, transportation other than for employment, subsistence to obtain medical care, moving expenses, Social Security tax paid to an approved household employee, back taxes, furniture, appliances, etc.~~

2-009.01A Standard of Need Chart: Effective July 1, ~~2013~~ 2015, the standard of need by unit size ~~for the to determination of~~ eligibility and payment is as follows:

Number in Unit	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
	541	667	793	919	1,045	1,171	1,297	1,423	1,549	1,675
Standard	529	652	775	898	1,021	1,144	1,269	1,392	1,515	1,638

~~For each additional eligible individual, the standard of need increases by $126. One hundred twenty-three dollars are added for each eligible individual.~~

~~The standard of need for a grandparent whose income is deemed to a minor parent is $529; $123 are added for each additional individual whose income is considered.~~

Note: ~~Even if a woman has verification that she is expecting twins or a multiple birth, the grant unit may be increased by only one unborn in the final trimester.~~